Subject: I have the patience of a saint | You are a false opposition | Enjoy your bad publicity posting on my Website

To the Editors of Complaints Board:

I have the patience of a saint. Apparently patience is not the issue. The issue is that you are a false opposition who is more than willing to put on my complaint's board web page whatever SEOGears desires to post. However you are refusing to put on my Complaint's Board web page whatever I wish to post. So I am going to post you on my website as the false opposition that you are, unless or until you treat me fairly by allowing me as well as SEOGears to make posts on my Complaint's Board web page that I not SEOGears initiated. My website gets an average of 30 visitors a week. So enjoy your bad publicity.

The above is my reply to your e-mail reply stating that I ought to have patience with regards to you not posting my post.
