Please refrain from sending us any more correspondences as they will NOT be read, NOT be listened to, NOT be opened and either deleted, trashed, or refused and returned to sender.

Per your previous e-mails to us you signified to us that this matter is going to be resolved by indicating that you are refunding us our money. So there is nothing else to discuss between us. As soon as we see the refund posted on our online banking statement we will consider this matter resolved.
